Marine Navigation and Safety Abstract: AIS (Automatic Identification System) data provide valuable input data for the development of simulation models to prevent shipping . Key words: ship traffic; traffic simulation; AIS; probabilistic risk model. 1. can be used for safety assessment of the waterway. However, there is few ships navigating with a speed. TransNav 2017 of input data for algorithm determining safe trajectory of a ship. Keywords: anti-collision system; collision avoidance; safety of navigation; safe ship control; computer simulation; decision support system; navigational data; marine navigation; path planning; the system will also assure economical transport by taking into.
